Commentary

Global equities rallied sharply in November (+5.6%) as optimism over a series of COVID-19 vaccines drove a risk-on appetite and added fuel to the post-US election rally. Investors exhibited a preference for cyclical and low multiple – or value – stocks, as growth and momentum underperformed. Energy, Financials, Industrials and Materials outperformed, whilst Utilities and Staples lagged.

Positive vaccine trials from Pfizer/BioNTech, Moderna and Astra Zeneca/Oxford led to the market pricing in an economic recovery, fuelling a rally in 're-opening' beneficiaries. The markets most geared to an economic recovery and hit hardest this year led, namely Europe (+10.0%), Japan (+5.8%) and Emerging Markets ex-Asia (+10.0%).

US equities (+4.9%) lagged given the overhang of political uncertainty post Joe Biden's victory in the US Presidential election given Donald Trump's refusal to concede defeat.

Asia equities (+3.1%) underperformed as China weighed on the region (-1.0%). US-China tensions escalated after President Trump signed an Executive Order prohibiting US persons from investing in companies with links to China military.

Elsewhere, the USD weakened (DXY -2.3%), Brent Crude rose strongly (+26.2% in USD) on demand optimism and Gold (-6.3% in USD) fell given improved risk appetite.

- Industrials cluster, including GE and Siemens, on a better outlook for economic growth following vaccine news. GE will benefit from a normalisation in travel, as its aerospace engines business accounted for two-thirds of earnings pre COVID.
- Consumer Cyclical Developed Markets (DM), including retail banks (e.g. ING Groep, Capital One) and retail businesses (e.g. Ulta Beauty) on greater confidence around economic growth. Potential regulatory approval to restart capital distributions should be a clear catalyst for re-rating for ING and Capital One, once granted.
- Oil/Natural Gas cluster, notably TechnipFMC, on optimism around energy demand.
- Infrastructure/Property – DM, notably EDF, as incremental newsflow confirms regulatory reform and restructuring are well advanced.
- Connectivity/Compute cluster including Samsung Electronics and TSMC on indications of stronger than expected demand from handsets, datacentre, autos and PCs. Further, any improvement in supply-demand dynamics in DRAM memory will benefit Samsung.

Key detractors to performance included:

- Shorts, which can act as a headwind in strong upward moving markets.
- Online Services Asia/EM notably Alibaba and Tencent following proposed anti-competitive policies from the Chinese regulator. While this may affect growth rates, the impact is likely to be mitigated by an increase in competition with the emergence of many new platforms.

⁵ As a percentage of the net asset value of the Fund per annum (Fee rate includes GST). ⁶ The Performance Fee will be calculated daily in respect of a semi-annual performance period ending on 30 June and 31 December each year (or the immediately preceding Business Day if not a Business Day) (each a Performance Period). The performance fee above has a 'high water mark'. This means it is calculated on a cumulative basis relative to the Benchmark Index so that any performance under the Benchmark Index in a particular period must first be recovered in following periods before performance fees are paid. ⁷ When you enter or leave a Fund, any buy or sell spreads applicable at that time will be a cost to you. The buy spread is added to the Unit price on entry to the Fund, and the sell spread is deducted from the Unit price on exit from the Fund. The buy/sell spreads belong to the Fund and the purpose of buy/sell spreads is to make sure that any transaction costs incurred as a result of an investor entering or leaving the Fund are borne by that investor, and not by other investors in the Fund. There is no GST charged on buy/sell spreads.
